

"I do not believe there is anyone that can best. Dempsey, unless they wait until he is so old he can't fight," is the opinion of Rockwood Brown, prominent attorney of the ety, who, in company with Ray M. Hut and B. R. Abbn, saw the Carpenter-Dempsey fight in Jersey City on July S. Mr. Brown returned to Billings the first of the week.

ers expect their money Mr. Brown said:
"That it a hard question to nawer justly because it is a lot of money.
This crowd was with Carpentier all through the fight, and in the second round, although I do not think that the challenger came at all near knocking Dempsey out, he did have him grogsy for awhile.

"The general sentiment seemed to be that had Carpentier used the open method of fighting, instead of going in for the clinches, he would have stayed the hard thing to judge. The Frenchman was certainly a placky and game fighter The size of the ring and a three-indelet padding between the canvass and the floor tended to slow him up con-

The weather the day of the fight was great. It cooled off the day before enough to make it comfortable. We left New York about 10 o'clock that morning and it was really remarkable the way they handled the huge crowd which was pouring into the arona. There was no confusion and no mixupe. As much crowd got out of there after the fight It was after 7 o'clock whan we go back to New York. We first tried it get tickets to go across the 'tube', who could not get within half a mile of the station. Most of the four hours were spehi in trying to get tickets and ge on 'a ferry going across. There occ was a ferry going across. There occ was a ferry going across.

"Carpentier passed within four or five feet of us as he was noing out of the ring, and despite the beating he had just reached he was etill smiling Dempsey fought a good clean fight. He is a fertible looking person and a week's growth of beard he had on hi

The church and the fight carried the newspapers were a very good, act rate and fair account of the who thing, Carpentier just warn't big enoug to lick the champion, that was all the was to st."

Mr. Brown has been in the east fet the last month. He first attended the Kiwanis club national convention is Cleveland and them went on to Ne Tork. Speaking of the heat here an in the east Mr. Brown mayn: ""hi lant hot here at all. After being is some of that eastern heat for a mont I find the Billings temperature some what cool."
