

<h2>ELECTRIFICATION GROUP CONVENES</h2> <h3>Meeting Is Held at Shiloh Schoolhouse.</h3> Laurel, July 14.—(Special)—More than 125 ranchers of the Shiloh and Molt communities attended the first in a series of follow-up meetings for the Yellowstone Rural Electrification association, Laurel unit, held at the Shiloh schoolhouse Tuesday evening. John O. Wold of Laursi, presided as temporary district chairman and introduced the speakers who included C. H. Smith, engineer in charge of the construction, representing the state water conservation board; Joseph Pickens of Huntley, president of the Huntley organization; Rockwood Brown who stated that an effort was being made to secure enough subscribers in the Laurel territory so that a hook-up may be made with the Huntley unit; Dr. D. H. McCauley, chairman of the rural electrification committee of the Laurel Commercial club, who reported that ex-	<h3>FIREMEN TO MEET.</h3> Anaconda, July 14.—(P)—More than 300 firemen from five north-west states and British Columbia are expected to attend the forty-sixth annual convention of the Montana State Firemen's association here August 5, 6 and 7, Henry Quane, chief of the Anaconda department, announced. cellent progress was being made in the community near Rockvale and Park City, 130 ranchers having thus far subscribed. At the meeting Tuesday night 50 petitions were received from Shiloh ranchers. The deadline for securing signatures for the Laurel project has been set at July 25. Mr. Smith explained that the organization would run three main transmission lines through the territory, to tie in with power stations in Billings and Laurel. The ranchers must be responsible for the installation in their homes.
---	--

WONG SUN CO.
Chinese Medicines
Billings, Montana.
Wong Sun is in his office every day except Sunday.

Brown Speaks At REA Meeting

Clipped By:

seabix1
Mon, Apr 6, 2020