

Sunday, September 26, 1937.

MONTANANS CONFER AT WASHINGTON . . .

O. S. Warden, Great Falls; R. J. Kelly; Gov. Roy E. Ayers, and Rockwood Brown of Billings (left to right) are shown as they left their hotel in Washington for a conference with PWA officials to urge expedition of Montana water projects for which PWA funds already have been allotted. Worden and Brown are members of the state water conservation board and Kelly is its secretary. The governor and Kelly were to leave Washington Saturday for Helena.

Brown (Pictured) And Water Board Urge Expediting of Montana Projects to Public Works Administration

Clipped By:

seabix1
Mon, Apr 6, 2020