The polio epidemic apparently neared an end with only three new cases in Yellowstone county and none in Billings during the last seven days. After two weeks of quarantine city and county folk alike welcomed the news that restrictions will be gradually relaxed beginning Sunday with the re-opening of churches and theaters.

Beer halls, bowling alleys and cocktail lounges, closed since October 1, will resume operation Monday, and boys and girls under 18 may venture from their own lots Tuesday, without making their parents liable to fines.
