

Texas Firm Building New Bentonite Plant

CHEYENNE, Aug. 20—(AP)—Wyoming has a new industry, Howard Sharp, secretary-manager of the Wyoming Commerce and Industry commission, said today.

The Magna Cove Barium Corp. of Houston, Texas, now is in the process of building a bentonite processing plant on the outskirts of Greybull.

Sharp said the state's congressional delegation has been asked to help the company obtain a certificate of necessity for its materials.
