cochairman of the fund-raising effort to build a new home. Members of the Junior Woman's Club, who have paid a total of $29,000 in rent for the home since it opened in 1951, have been unable to make improvements on inadequate facilities.—Carp's photo.
