

New Bentonite Mill Planned

LOVELL — Wyo. Ben Products Co. will erect a new bentonite plant in Lovell.

Chris Paustian, manager of the Greybull plant, said the firm has purchased land west of the county road near the old refinery for the Lovell plant. Work of clearing the site is scheduled to start in a few weeks.

The new plant will process bentonite from claims in the Lovell area, and will handle bulk loading only.

The Greybull plant will continue to process both bentonite and gypsum from deposits in the Greybull - Stucco area.
