

Thorson said solar energy equivalent to 200 billion cubic feet of natural gas is used to field dry the bentonite during the summer months. He said this represents approximately 50 per cent of the total fuel required when processing and that additional field drying is being contemplated to further

Field Drying of Bentonite Conserves Energy

Clipped By:

seabix1

Thu, Apr 30, 2020